DELAWARE, O., July 14.-While digging a well near Alum creek Hosea Croninger had an exciting experience with snakes. At some depth he struck gravel hardpan which sounded hollow. He gave a hard stroke with his pick and broke through, being precipitated into a cavernous hollow completely filled with snakes. He shouted to his companion above, who immediately drew him up, with the reptiles wound around his with the reptiles wound around his body and limbs. In a few minutes the half-dug well was literally a mass of writhing snakes. The men fled in ter-ror, and the well was abandoned to the reptiles. SITTING BULL'S DEATH. The Killing of the Chief Brought About by His Son's Taunt.

"Did you ever know just how Sitting Bull was killed?" asked Lieutenant Baker of the Twelftn infantry, U. S. A. "I do not think," he continued, "the details were ever printed. I never saw them, and I was there."

I tell it, as near as it can be recalled, as the lieutenant told it.

Sitting Bull was at his shack with his sons, near Standing Rock agency, when he was sent for to come into the agency. The Indian police were commissioned to bring him in, and when an Indian policeman gets that order and finds his man he brings him, dead or alive, unless the man gets the drop first. Sitting Bull was disposed to obey the summons but one of his sons, as haughty an Indian as ever lived, taunted the old man for his weakness. He called him a squaw, and that epithet to an Indian brave is the cap sheaf of all that is derisive. The old man weakened under the boy's taunts, and the Indian police did the rest. Sitting Bull was all that his admirers claimed for him. When he fell, the boy who had taunted him crawled under the bunk where the old man had slept. He was there when Shavehead, an Indian from the agency, came in. He heard the story. He liked Sitting Bull, and when he was told that the boy had taunted his father and was the cause of his death Shavehead said the boy deserved death, and he was dragged out from under the bed and killed. These details Lieutenant Baker says he never saw in print.-Chicago

Williams Couty Village Almost Burned to the Ground.

EDON. O., July 13.—Yesterday E.ion was visited by the most disastrous firs that has occurred in this country for years, the conflagration resulting in a loss of $175,000. Seventy-two buildings were destroyed, including nearly the entire business portion of the city. The fire stared in the Oan Coryhouse just west of the main business part of the town, and a heavy gale of wind blew from the southwest, causing the fire to spread rapidly. Many people lost business buildings and stocks of goods and homes and furniture who had not a dollar's worth of insurance. The fire broke out at 11:45 o'clock and at 2 o'clock the destruction was complete.

o'clock the destruction was complete.

The old rule for distinguishing a mushroom from a toadstool. "Eat it, and if you live it's a mushroom,"does not satisfy the average person. Neither does it seem to satisfy W. Hamilton Gibson, who has prepared an article on the subject for the August Hangar's. According to Mr. Gibson, all large fungi are mushrooms, the toadstools with the rest. Moreover, many unpleasant-looking mushrooms which the public has labelled "toadstools" are very good eating, and the only dangerous fungus in this part of the world is an innocent-looking pure white umbrelia shaped mushroom, the deadly Amanita. Fifteen common and edible mushrooms are illustrated, and described in Mr. Gibson's article, so plainly that a novice, if he met them in his rambles, could not fail to recognize them.

The engines and fireman are under the wreck, ground to pieces.
The engine, baggage car, express car and the duy coach are piled in a ditch a broken mass. The wreck is undoubtedly the work of a lawless mob of miners that possessed
Remisidetracked five Big Four freight trains to show their sympathy for the railroad strikers.
The trouble was so threatening that Sheriff Stont, of Vigo county, and saveral deputies went to Fontanet yesterday afternoon. No passengers were seriously injured.

the Murder of Mayor Harrison. Chicago, July 13.—Prendergast was duly elected this morning for the murder of Mayor Carter H. Harrison in October last. The drop fell at 11:48 a. m. The assassin maintained unusual composure to the last and went to his death without making any One Woman's Experience.

A Womanly woman will be womanly everywhere and under all circumstances, and her influence is sure to be felt benefi tally. One woman's most unique experience of life for a year in a Michigan lumber-camp is most charmingly told in the exceedingly interesting article "In and About a Lumber Camp" when she and him around the house.

Gertie nover again will awaken,
At the early hours of morn,
And carees here sleeping mamma
With her little hands so warm.

You are missed by little sister.
Who so fondly 'round you played,
Yes, you're missed by all the household,
But in our loss you are repaid.

She has gone to dwell with angels,
For with us she could not stay,
Jeens called her to His Mansion,
Where she shares eternal day.

But we hope to great her,
On that 'Bright and Shining Shore,"
For we have that precious promise,
When the trials of life are o'ter.

We extend our sincere thanks to all the friends who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our little daughter, Gettle.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownswalley, Ind., says"In have been in a distressed condition for three years from Maryounness, Weaknows of the Stom ach, Dyapepsis and Indigestion until my health was gone, I had been doctoring constantly with a relief. I bought ione bottle of Sonth American Nervine, which done me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would adviseavery weakly person to neethis valuable and lovely remedy; a few bottles of it has cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicing in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. This bottle libraries. Sold by D. J. Humphrey, Napoleon, O. Aug. 19-ty
